

MIDWEST FIRE

Midwest Fire, an SBA certified woman-owned small business (WOSB), places at the core of the company the values of hard-working Midwestern families.

Since 1987, the staff at Midwest Fire has worked alongside EMS and firefighters, designing and manufacturing products that save lives and protect property. We're proud to serve you and appreciate the confidence you have in our products and the people committed to building the best firefighting products.

“ Clear Creek Volunteer Fire Department cannot express how pleased we are with Midwest Fire. From the time we stopped at their booth at FDIC, they were quick to offer help, ideas, suggestions and hospitality. The members of the department, along with myself, want to thank you for building high-quality fire apparatus at affordable prices to better equip our nation's first responders. ”

Shane Wriston – Chief
Clear Creek Volunteer Fire Department
Clear Creek, WV

Our customers often have unique requests specific to their firefighting needs. Midwest Fire is known for customized solutions. We build to the highest level of quality and craftsmanship. We believe each truck that leaves our facility carries along with it, our reputation. But our mission doesn't end there – we also provide efficient and reliable service after the sale. MIDWEST FIRE

“CREATE-A-SPEC” lets you design your own CUSTOM FIRE TRUCK

Found on our website, Create-A-Spec allows you to customize your firefighting vehicle to fit your needs.

Start with our exclusive All-Poly® tank and body. Made from high quality, 3/4" copolymer polypropylene and more impact resistant than steel or aluminum, our All-Poly® tanks and bodies are constructed with leak-proof extrusion welds that are guaranteed never to rust or corrode.

Capable of holding up to 4,000 gallons and built with a low center of gravity means that you will deliver large amounts of water safely and efficiently. Better yet, All-Poly® tanks and bodies come with a lifetime warranty. Midwest Fire also builds Galvanneal, Stainless Steel and Aluminum bodies that come with a 10-year body warranty.
